

Vision

Clackmannanshire is a scenic and historic place people enjoy living. It has buoyant, energised communities with aspiring spirit willing to make change happen. Our vision is to enable those communities to become active and involved to share ideas, resources and skills, and continue their journey to improve their environments, health and lives.

Mission

CTSi provides a 'single door' to better inform, support and to connect partners. We will encourage greater voluntary action by the people of Clackmannanshire to continue to bring effective change and control over their resources to improve their communities. We will work to continue to improve our service and skills for our members, support partnerships and raise the profile of CTSi and Clackmannanshire.

Drivers

Inform and listen better

Enable change through active involvement

Innovate through partnerships

Outcomes

CTSi is well managed and a centre for excellence, sharing and promoting best practice

Membership feel better listened to, have a voice and are supported to reach their goals

More young people start volunteering and start a journey towards lifetime learning

More people including those needing support engage in learning through volunteering and community involvement

Third Sector and its membership will be more representative and effective at all levels of CPP

New partnerships will help re-design, innovate and deliver a framework of services

Residents understand the integration of health and social care and its community focus

Communication and relationships are improved to ensure people understand our work, our value and trust in CTSi

Our membership attract and sustain volunteers with skills required to build capacity and resilience

Clacks is a place where voluntary action flourishes and is supported

CTSi helps grow the social economy and helps attract seedcorn funding to Clacks

Vulnerable groups and communities with less capacity are helped to be active and improve health and wellbeing

Outputs

CTSI achieves EFQM Level 1 and complete the work towards Level 2. Staff are well trained to respond to changes in government and local strategic plans

CTSI provides members the opportunities through active forums, one-to-one meetings and new online platforms to share their views and be communicated to

CTSI provides access to more information for individuals, carers and statutory providers on new ways to improve health and wellbeing through community services – by developing locality guides; online information and supporting development of community health network

CTSI improves its image through better marketing, targeted branding and improves understanding and trust in its work and services locally

Members and volunteers are communicated to effectively and have easy access to new resources, toolkits, blogs etc. to enable them learn and get the support they need

CTSI Volunteer service actively engages with schools, colleges and other partners to promote youth volunteering

CTSI works with Community Learning and Development partners to develop a new CLD and Active Living Strategy for Clacks particularly enabling access to lifetime learning improving health and wellbeing opportunities for those with barriers or hard to reach

CTSI provides a clear structured volunteer service and relevant tools and training opportunities to support members managing and volunteering in communities

CTSI works with CPP partners to help develop, implement and support the new Locality, Local Outcome Improvement Plans and other strategic planning activities for Clacks: community justice, children and families and attainment outcomes

CTSI provides a new social enterprise support service that dovetails with the aims of local economic development and City Deal plans and attracts new funding into the region

CTSI continues to identify gaps in local provision and community health services and be instrumental in encouraging partnership work and redesign of community services to deliver change and improvements to people's lives

Members are informed and understand importance of good governance, risks, responsibilities and legal compliance. New members and those lacking capacity are supported by CTSI and by peer mentors to build capacity and succeed